

Mediation is one of the Alternative Dispute Resolution methods. Under the provisions of Sec.89 Civil Procedure Code, the Parties can settle their cases arriving at compromise with the aid of Mediators. The Role of Mediators is to guide and assist the parties to explore the possibilities of settlement and to know about the pros and cons of the litigation / settlement. The mediators neither settle the dispute nor pass the award, but they guide the parties thereby the parties may arrive at terms of settlement on their own.

The District Judge cum Chairman of District Legal Services Authority is the Director and Secretary of the District Legal Services Authority is the Coordinator of the respective Mediation Centers. The persons selected from various walks of life are being imparted training on Mediation and they are acting as Mediators of the respective Mediation Centre. The services of the Coordinators or Mediators as the case may be are available and the public can avail the services of Mediation Centres for settlement of their disputes.

The coordinators and Mediators are being imparted training on Mediation under the aegis of Mediation & Conciliation Project Committee, Supreme Court of India. The services of Mediation Centres are free of cost and the parties may contact the Coordinators of the concerned Mediation Centres for availing its service.
